

Tom Byrnes
Founder and CEO
ThreatSTOP

Tom Byrnes is the CEO and Founder of ThreatSTOP, a startup that is leading the way in providing collaborative network defense against botnets and criminal malware.

Over the past 23 years Byrnes has held technical leadership positions in both civilian and military capacities in all areas of Information Technology, including: the US Army, Manufacturers, VARs and Distributors of equipment; as CTO of an ISP and e-commerce hosting company; and Sr. VP of Technology of a Mutual and Venture fund.

Byrnes is an active full member of the IEEE and ISSA and speaks regularly at conferences on the topic of network security.